Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Mr. Igor Tiorlo started his skydiving career in May 1964.

During this time, he has made more than 9200 parachuting jumps of varying complexity, including testing new experimental parachute samples and a parachuting landing on the North Pole in 2000.

Mr. Tiorlo won the title "Overall World Champion" in Zagreb (former Yugoslavia) in 1978, and at the next World Parachuting Championships in Kazanlak (Bulgaria) in 1980, he won the title "Overall World Vice-Champion" (2nd place in Overall classification).

At that time, he was the first person in the history of parachuting who, during two consistent World Championships in 1978 and 1980, became the Overall World Vice-Champion after previous great success as the Overall World Champion.

Overall, Mr. Tiorlo has been awarded two gold medals, four silver medals, and a bronze medal during two consistent World Championships in 1978 and 1980.

He also holds the Individual World Record in Accuracy Landing (ID 12927) and three Team World Records in Accuracy Landing (ID 12693; ID 12876; ID 12887).

After finishing his competitor's activities, Mr. Tiorlo continued his work in parachuting as the Chief Coach of the Ukrainian National Team in Classic Skydiver.

The results of his job were silver medals for the female team on the 4th FAI European PC 2005 in Team Overall Classification, bronze medals for the female team on the 4th

FAI European PC 2005 in Team Accuracy Landing, bronze medals for the female team on the 29th FAI World PC 2006 in Team Accuracy Landing, 8 Individual World Records and 7 Individual European Records in Accuracy Landing by Ukrainian National Team members:

World Records: ID 9716; 14742; 14744; 14746; 14791; 14793; 14795; 14797;

European Records: ID 14743; 14745; 14747; 14792; 14794; 14796; 14798.

FAI Parachuting Judge since 1989, Mr. Tiorlo has been appointed Chief Judge of the FCE on three occasions – the 30th FAI S&A WPC in 2008, the 31st FAI S&A WPC in 2010, the 13th FAI S&A WCup/the 7th FAI S&A EPC in 2013.

Mr. Tiorlo also has been appointed FAI Controller on three occasions:

FAI Accuracy Landing World Cup in 2002,

FAI S&A European PC in 2005,

FAI S&A European PC in 2011.

Mr. Tiorlo was elected to the Style and Accuracy Committee in 1998 as a member and for several years as a Deputy Chair of the Committee up to 2016.

Despite his 75-year-old age, Mr. Igor Tiorlo continues his fruitful activity in the Ukrainian Parachuting Federation as the Executive Committee Chairman of the Federation and the most experienced FAI parachuting judge in Ukraine.

For these reasons, the Federation of Aeronautical Sports of Ukraine nominates Mr. Igor Tiorlo as a well-known and extremely worthy candidate to receive the FAI Gold Parachuting Medal for his outstanding accomplishments and great contributions to the parachuting sport.

Kind regards,

Vasyl Rusnak

Secretary General FAS of Ukraine
