Final comments and evaluation of the contest	The World Cup was organized on a level which needs improvements. The airfield used and surrounding area is not fully suitable to host a World Cup competition. The Organizer largely lacked experience and lack of needed items for competition which needed to be managed, resulted in several delays on the timetable, as well formal mistakes were observed. All were corrected by the jury or judges. Time keeping and judging was objective. Results were prepared on a laptop and posted on the scoreboard. Information bulletins were prepared to inform the competitors about needed changes and delays and posted on the information board. The team for managing the results did a great and professional job and beside his duties, largely contributed to help to improve the lower level of the organization. The Jury recommended the organizer to work more intensively with experienced teams, avoiding any issues for the future. The standard which is expected at World Cup competitions was not achieved as it was expected.
