20/06/2120	2020/07	The CF Committee has advised that the wording for CF records as in the 2020 edition of the Sporting Code - Section 5, para 3.3.2 is not the same text that was accepted at the 2020 ISC Plenary Meeting. The CF Committee, in agreement with the Rules & Regulations Committee, has requested the Bureau issue an Interim Bureau Decision to reinstate the original, approved wording.	The ISC Bureau agrees that the wording in Sporting Code Section 5 3.3.2. be modified to reflect the wording voted on during the 2020 ISC Plenary Meeting. The corrected wording is as follows: 3.3.2 CF Records Largest Formation The record performance for the Largest Formation is the number of persons in one formation. A written plan describing the formation to be attempted and the persons involved must be submitted in advance to the Judges. The formation must be complete as described with all named persons in the formation. All persons in the completed formation must be connected by at least one grip either taken by the person or taken on the person. A grip is a hand hold or a foot hook on an "A" line or front riser (both as defined in the relevant Competition Rules). Large Formation Sequential and Full Break Large Formation Sequential The record performance for the Large Formation Sequential record and Full Break Large Formation Sequential is the number of persons (not less than 25% (rounded up) of the size of the Largest Formation Record (World or Continental Regional, General or Female, as appropriate) at the time the sequential record is performed) to perform complete a sequence of two or more formations, giving a separate record performance for each number of formations completed. A written plan of the record performance(s) describing the formations and the transitions to be attempted and the persons involved must be submitted in advance to the Judges. The formations and the transitions must be performed as described in the plan completed as described with all named personnel in the formations. All persons in the completed formations must be connected by at least one grip either taken by the person or taken on the person. A grip is a hand hold or a foot hook on an "A" line or front riser (both as defined in the relevant Competition Rules)

(1) Large Formation Sequential

In the transition from one formation to the next, at least 35% of the persons in the first formation must either release all of their grips and all grips on them must also be released or be a member of a released sub-group, consisting of no more than four persons.
~~None of the released grips included in this 35% may be retaken in the next formation.~~
Each person or group must re-dock in a different position or on a different set of grips. Each subgroup must be clearly presented and remain intact as a subgroup from the grip release until the correct completion of the next formation. Simultaneous separation during the transition is not required but total separation must be shown at some point in time during the transition as shown in the written plan

(2) Full Break Large Formation Sequential

In the transition from one formation to the next, all grips must be released. No new grip may be taken by any person until all grips held by or on that person have been released. Simultaneous separation between persons is not required.

~~None of the grips may be retaken in any of the subsequent two formations in the sequence.~~

~~After the group has completed three different formations, the group may elect to return to the first formation (allowing the first set of grips to be retaken) and repeat the sequence or may elect to continue the sequence with three new different formations.~~

~~In any set of three formations, the position taken by a person in a particular formation relative to each other person must be different to that taken by that person in the previous and subsequent formations.~~

None of the depicted grips from any previous formation may be retaken in the same position in any of the subsequent formations in the sequence for up to three formations.

Each person must re-dock in a different position or on a different set of grips.

After the group has completed three different formations, the group may elect to return to the first formation and repeat the sequence (allowing the first set of grips to be retaken) or continue the sequence of formations with a new, different formation.
